Farmville: This is yet another example of a game that doesn't really offer any value at all but still manages to make a ton of money. It's a very bizarre concept which involves fun because you think you're going to become rich by buying fake farm products and selling them or you can become popular by posting pictures of your fake farm products and getting attention from people who want similar things. I mean, if this is what people want then it's really no different than Roblox except with Farmville you're dealing with real money.

ROBLOX is a great game, and has lots of potential, but it's not being used as a serious game developer wants it to be. You can't break out of the virtual world without spending money on the Robux currency. It's like a video game and to continue playing you need Robux, but if there is no value in the game then they don't want you to play at all.
